Preface

This edition of the Statistics Canada Catalogue contains a listing of numbered publications released by the Department before January 1, 1985. Publications discontinued in 1984 are so designated and will be removed from the next edition; all out of print publications have been removed unless they were new releases this year; and as a space saving measure those more than ten years old have been removed. For a full complement of Statistics Canada numbered publications the "Historical Catalogue of Statistics Canada Publications, 1981-80" (11-512E) and subsequent annual Catalogues should be consulted.

This year a listing of Full Depository Libraries has been added in the "How to Get Help" section of the Introduction. These libraries automatically receive all federal government publications free of charge.

In a departure from a long-standing policy of free distribution of our Catalogue a "charge" has been applied to this year's edition. This charge reflects in part the steadily increasing costs of materials and services experienced in recent years.

It will be noted that prices are not included with the listed publications in this edition. They have been supplied instead on a separate Price List enclosed with each copy of the Catalogue. As in previous years, prices supplied are subject to change without notice. The issuing of up-dated pricelists from time to time will minimize the inconvenience to our clients resulting from price changes.

The 1985 Statistics Canada Catalogue was prepared in the Reference Products Section of the Business, Provincial and Municipal Relations Division by Susan Irving.

Introduction

HOW TO USE THE CATALOGUE

This Introduction explains how to use the Catalogue and how to order publications, notes other documents that are available and indicates where to obtain additional information or help. The three short sections that follow immediately after the Introduction record the changes which have occurred since the release of last year's Catalogue. The Catalogue then divides into its two major sections, i.e. Publications and Index.

Section one is a listing of publications arranged by Catalogue number and by subject, except for the Census publications (see below). The entries include the Catalogue number, title, frequency, language(s), number of pages, date of first issue (or the reference year of the publication), International Standard Serial (or Book) Number and a brief paragraph describing the contents of the publications.

There are two numbering systems in this Catalogue: the regular 5-digit (e.g. 53-216) and the departmental number (e.g. 53-X-216). Publications are grouped by subject number with the departmental (X) numbers following the regular publication numbers of the same periodicity.

Publications of the 1976 Census and the 1981 Census are grouped consecutively by Census year. All have catalogue numbers with a 9 as a first digit, and a third digit of 8 (for the 1976 Census) or 9 (for the 1981 Census). Thus, 93-821 precedes 92-901.

The listing of Products and Services of the 1981 Census earlier used a 4-digit numbering system (e.g. E-482) for some 1981 Census departmental publications. To provide continuity, entries for these publications (now identified by an X number) include the old 4-digit number added after the title. The 4-digit numbers are not referenced in the Index.

Section two is an alphabetical title, subject and commodity index, including a separate section for Census publications. Please see the first page of the Index for a further explanation.

HOW TO ORDER PUBLICATIONS

Regular publications should be ordered from Publication Sales and Services, the regional reference centres of Statistics Canada or from local bookstores. Departmental publications should be ordered from the regional reference centres and may also be available from some local bookstores. Please note that this year two order forms are provided at the back of the Catalogue. The first form is to order Departmental publications and the second is for the regular publications. The forms contain complete ordering instructions. Addresses of regional reference centres are listed in the "How to Get Help" section. When ordering publications by mail purchasers should make payment in Canadian funds or the equivalent and should not enclose postage stamps or currency.

Under a "Full Publication Service" customers can automatically obtain copies of all publications excluding the decennial or quinquennial Census of Population, the Census of Agriculture, and Statistics Canada departmental publications.

Organizations such as schools, school boards, colleges, universities and public libraries are allowed a 30% discount on Statistics Canada regular publications. Those clients should calculate their discounts in advance and send in only the net amount with their order. (This discount is not offered to individuals).

N.B. Prices are subject to change without notice.

OTHER DATA FORMATS AND HOW TO ORDER THEM

Canadian Socio-Economic Information Management System (CANSIM®)

CANSIM is Statistics Canada's computerized data bank and information retrieval service. It contains the most recent as well as historical statistical information. CANSIM comprises three modules:

1. The CANSIM Time Series data base which offers detailed and conceptually compatible sets of aggregated time series data on a large number of subject matters, particularly economic and business statistics;
2. The CANSIM Cross-classified data base which is organized into statistical tables allowing up to nine levels of cross-classification and contains social and economic data;
3. The CANSIM Summary Data System which combines a data base containing User Summary Tape data from the ® Registered Trademark of Statistics Canada.

Introduction

1976 and 1981 Censuses with an interactive dialogue and an access system which allows selection, retrieval and manipulation of summary data.

A number of service options are available - among them TELICHART and EMS - sourced primarily from the Time Series Data Base. TELICHART links some 30,000 CANSIM time series with the low cost colour graphics of TELIDON and simple interactive commands to display statistical data in graphic form. EMS provides electronic delivery of statistical fact sheets retrieved from CANSIM and delivered through public carrier electronic messaging systems.

All three CANSIM data bases and the variety of CANSIM data services can be accessed anywhere in Canada by computer terminal. Customers without terminal access may direct their request for data to their closest regional reference centre or to CANSIM Division in Ottawa.

For more detail on CANSIM, contact CANSIM Division, Statistics Canada, R.H. Coats Building, Ottawa, Ontario, K1A 0T6 or telephone (613)990-8203.

Data in Microform

Statistics Canada makes data available in microform. Regional reference centres can provide further information.

Manufacturing

Description of Reports

Publications listed under "Manufacturing" relate to Division E of the Standard Industrial Classification.

Some of these reports provide summarized and analytical information for manufacturing as a whole; others provide detailed information on individual manufacturing industries or on various commodities.

Although titles of the various reports are broadly indicative of the subject matter covered, explanatory notes have been included under title headings where necessary. Such notes are generally restricted to reports on the manufacturing industries as a whole (sub-group 31) and to those publications on commodities. The reports on individual industries are generally similar to each other in character and include such principal statistics as: number of establishments; number and type of employees, and their salaries and wages; cost of fuel and electricity; value of shipments of goods of own manufacture; and value added. Comparative statistics are given for Canada for earlier years and for the preceding year for provinces. Also shown are the value and, where applicable, quantities of major products shipped and purchased materials used by establishments classified to the industry. Some reports show total manufacturers' shipments of relevant commodities without regard to industry of origin, but this is given comprehensively for all commodities in an annual report on products shipped by Canadian manufacturers.

Primarily because annual surveys cannot be initiated until the end of the calendar year and because of the time required to collect and compile extensive data, most annual industry reports are not available until a year or more after the end of the year of the survey.

In addition, there are a large number of publications that are published more frequently than once a year and that contain current information on commodities (generally shipments, production or consumption). Although not exactly suitable to industry analyses, except in the case of one-industry commodities, they have proven to be most useful in commodity analyses.

Current estimates of the value of shipments, inventories and orders for manufacturing industries in total, numerous sub-aggregations and selected industries are issued monthly. They are based on a sample survey of establishments representing about 75% of the shipments, determined from the Census of Manufactures.

Census and Intercensal Studies (1976 Census)

Popular Series

The 1976 Census popular studies are produced in a journalistic style with coloured art work, simple graphs and summary tables. These studies are primarily intended for use at the high school and community college/university levels. They may, however, be of interest to the general public and other groups.

98-802E Canada's Population: Demographic Perspectives. E. and F. 32 pp.

Totalled 5.4 million in 1901 and by 1976 had increased to 23 million. The present century witnessed three major trends in population growth since the peak growth rate of 3.4% between 1901 and 1911 the number of females exceeded the number of males for the first time in 1976, the proportion of young children in the population is declining while the proportion of elderly is increasing. Canada's working age population increased from 9.2 million in 1961 to 12.7 million in 1976, single men out-number single women, but widowed women far exceed widowed men. British Columbia and Alberta had the greatest population percentage increase during 1971-76; by 2001 Canada's population is likely to reach between 28.1 and 31 million; and migration is expected to play an important role in future population growth in Canada.

98-803E Canada's Cities. E. and F. 32 pp.

Brings together some of the facts about our highly urban population: between 1901 and 1971 the share of the urban population increased from 37.5% to 76.1%; Calgary was Canada's fastest growing census metropolitan area, while the population of the Windsor census metropolitan area actually declined between 1971 and 1976; also during those years, nine central cities recorded declines in their populations; most of the growth has occurred in the suburbs; Thunder Bay has the largest proportion of private households occupying single-detached dwellings among the census metropolitan areas and Montreal the largest proportion occupying apartmentments, and French is the dominant mother tongue for Chicoutimi-Jonquiere and English the most dominant for St. John's. Along with the slowdown in urban growth in recent years (1971-76) there is a hint of a renewed interest in rural living.

98-804E Canada's Female Labour Force. E. and F. 34 pp.

Many facts about the female labour force are revealed: close to four million women were in the labour force in 1976; in recent years they have been entering the labour market at a faster rate than men; nearly two-thirds of the female labour force are married, the majority are in the younger age groups and they tend to have fewer children than those not in the labour force, women have higher unemployment rates than men and they work in a narrower range of industries; and although men have higher average annual incomes than women, some of this difference is accounted for by full- or part-time work and length of work experience.

98-810 Children in Canadian Families. By Sylvia T. Wargon Bilingual 109 pp.

The proclamation of 1979 as the "Year of the Child" by the United Nations seemed a fitting occasion for a presentation on Canadian children by Statistics Canada's Social Statistics Field. This publication is intended for those who are interested in statistical series, data sources, and a general picture of the main features of recent demographic trends and aspects of children in Canadian families as revealed in the Canadian census data. The emphasis is on the display of data series not available elsewhere and on their description and interpretation in broad outline form.
